

A CHILD GETS CROSS, SICK AND FEVERISH WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated clean little liver and bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you will have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advt.

PRELATES CONDEMN FALSE PATRIOTISM

Episcopal Letter Warns of Race Antipathy Flaming into Hatred

URGENT APPEAL MADE FOR WAR CHARITIES

America's Contribution to Sufferers of European Countries Is Called the "Mearest Pittance"—Few Have Given Lavishly.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 28.—The general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church ended here yesterday afternoon with reading of the pastoral letter of the House of Bishops warning against the perils of the world confusion which besets the nation.

This message, which is to be distributed for reading from all pulpits of the faith, was read in Christ church cathedral by Bishop Charles Henry Breant of the Philippines as the vested shepherds of the sees sat in the chancel. The draft was written by him and Bishops Lawrence of Massachusetts and Anderson of Chicago, and revised by the episcopate in chancel. Thoughts of the tragedy of Europe have affected the proceedings of the convention at every angle, and their influence fills this last utterance. The letter sets forth that so interwoven are the portions of the nations in the tapestry of fate that to ignore such a fact would be folly. The fact that our nation is not at war "affords no ground for smugness."

"It throws upon us the searching responsibility of exalting the true ideals of peace and incorporating them in our national life," the letter says.
"Nationalism too often assumes the ugly role of group-selfishness or false patriotism. Local conditions determine what form this disease will take. You-der it breaks forth in war; here in un-consecrated prosperity which is bound to cause manhood to decay. The nation that in some quarters, for the sake of gain, still chains to the wheels of industrial the bodies and souls of her little children, that allows human life to be sacrificed to the inventions of speed and production from lack of costly safeguards, that hoots but list-lessly the cry of the poor and oppressed, is not at peace even though she be not at war. If presently we aspire to act as peacemakers in behalf of the warring nations on the ground that we are not caught in the meshes of the actual conflict, let our aspirations be tempered by the reflection that we are tainted with the common disease of which the eruption of war is a symptom, not a cause. God hates a Godless and empty peace as much as he hates unrighteous war."

"Let it be said that, in proportion to her swollen wealth, as figures show, America's contribution toward the alleviation of innocent sufferers in Europe is the mearest pittance.
A few have given lavishly, even to the laying down of their lives, many in due proportion to their substance, the vast majority little or nothing. But the opportunity has not yet swept by.
The wounds of Armenia, Poland, and Belgium still lie gaping to the sky and offer their dumb appeal to God and man. If America comes out of this day of world disorder, richer in purse and poorer in manhood, she will invite and bring upon herself the penalty of a debased national life or even of losing her soul. The peace that smotheres the soul is as ruthless and inexorable as the war which mangles the bodies of its victims."

The Bishops declare that the nation is still in "danger of race antipathy flaming into the hatred" which always constitutes the call to arms.
"Whatever dangers may be lurking beyond our western horizon," they say, "can surely be averted by a spirit of justice, which has not always prevailed in our dealing with the multitudinous Orient, which presently will be the center of the world's attention."

WEST DUMMERSTON.

Miss Bernice Clark is spending the week in Brattleboro.

She went Wednesday to Brattleboro to assist her daughter, Mrs. Stevens, in caring for Mr. Stevens, who has a broken leg. Much sympathy is felt here for Mr.
Stevens. He and his family had made their home here for three years before moving to Brattleboro.

SOUTH VERNON.

Automobile Overturned on Stockwell Hill.

Ernest Billings had a very narrow escape from what might have been a serious accident. As he was driving down Stockwell hill in Vernon Tuesday with E. B. Buffum's automobile the machine headed for the deep ravine at one side of the road. He managed to turn it in time to run it into the "high road" bank, where it tipped over underneath, blocking traffic for a time. He managed to crawl out without injury to himself, and the automobile was not damaged. With the assistance of three or four men the machine was righted and he proceeded on his homeward trip to Buffum's store.

Miss Mary Scott is spending a few days in Brattleboro.

William H. Newton returned home from Newfare Monday.

A. A. Wheeler for some time, has returned to Southbridge, Mass., and Mrs. Duncan of West Springfield, Mass., has taken her place for the winter.

Mrs. Gertrude Lee Church of Cambridge, Mass., called on relatives in town last week. Mrs. Church is the youngest daughter of the late Dr. J. S.
Lee, and in her girlhood used to visit in town at the old Marshall Lee homestead and with other relatives.

State Fish and Game Commissioner J. W. Titcomb made a visit of inspection to the Vernon field station last week and made arrangements for a temporary shelter to be built over part of the platform of troughs, so that some hatching may be done this winter.

Charles Wheeler, son of A. A. Wheeler, is very ill with hardening of the arteries around the heart, in the Memorial hospital in Brattleboro, where he has been two or three weeks. He has undergone operations to draw away water from his heart and chest. In the first operation they drew away 12 quarts of water and in the second 14 quarts were removed.

VERNON.

Fifteen from West Brattleboro and Guilford, former neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Miller, made Mr. and Mrs.
Miller a visit Saturday evening. Music, etc., was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Mr. Boyden and son and Mrs.
George Collins and daughter of Conway and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gardner of Plainfield, Mass., were guests Sunday at R. N. Clark's. Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Gardner are sisters of Mr. Clark.

in town on business Wednesday.

Miss Ayers will be a guest of Mrs.
Annie Newcomb until New Year's.

Mrs. Arthur Gibson closed her summer home Wednesday and has returned to New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sage of Townshend spent Saturday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sage.

Mr. Goddard is baling hay for some of the farmers in Wardsboro with his new baler which he bought this fall.

The Community club will hold a Halloween social in the church Saturday evening, with free luncheon. All are cordially invited.

Rev. Ashfield Ashford and a few other men are improving the looks of the Congregational church with a coat of paint. In the repair the Ladies' Aid society plans to repair the interior of the church.

Rural schools in Ohio are to introduce courses of etiquette and table manners.

GRAFTON.

the Sunday school convention in Brattleboro last week were Mrs. Charles Wright, Miss Amy Davis, Mrs. Clara Treadwell, Rev. William Weston Evans and Rev. G. E. Congdon.

Mrs. E. Lynne Walker was in town Sunday. Her son, Walter Lynne Walker, who had been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. L. Walker, returned to Saxtons River with her Sunday.

Rev. William Weston Evans occupied the pulpit of the Congregational church in Saxtons River last Sunday in exchange with the pastor, Rev.
George F. Chapin, and preached in Cambridgeport in the afternoon.
